Dolce&Gabbana and Smeg join creative forces to create Sicily is my Love, a new unique project Made in Italy. The new small appliances collection is produced by Smeg with an unmistakable Dolce&Gabbana touch.

The majolica kitchen is inspired by traditional ceramic decoration, which ties it to the iconography of Sicily's history. The hood features the ruins of an ancient temple; the side panels, painted as if on ceramic, portray two inland landscapes: one featuring scenes of everyday life, the other hosts the ruins of a castle built by the Byzantines and a 14th-century sanctuary.
